Terms and Conditions

1. The Foundation's scholarship is only valid for the proposed programme of study at the academic institution specified in the application and only for the academic year for which the application is made. The scholar undertakes to diligently pursue his/her studies in compliance with the time limit set out in his/her application.

2. As the Foundation's award does not cover all costs of study it is the scholar's responsibility to fund any such additional costs. Any funding by third parties, which the scholar may require shall be secured prior to the commencement of his studies. The scholar shall promptly notify the Foundation if he/she is not successful in his/her attempts to secure such funding and the Foundation shall then be entitled to withdraw the award.

3. The Foundation is not responsible for costs incurred by third parties in the application process

4. It is the responsibility of the scholar to secure visa and other travel documents. The host institution often manages this process.

5. The scholar shall respect and comply with the prevailing regulations of the authorities of the host institution and of the host country.

6. The scholar shall always act as an ambassador of the mission of the Foundation to foster mutual understanding between Europe and the Arab world through cultural and educational exchange. The scholar shall participate in activities related to this goal, organised by the Foundation or otherwise to the extent that this can reasonably be expected.

7. The scholar shall submit to the Foundation (a) a mid-year academic report, and (b) within two months after the completion of the study period for which the Foundation's award has been granted, a final narrative report of his/her studies including a completed evaluation form provided by the Foundation and a list of grades achieved.

8. The scholar will be referred to, and will do so him-/herself, as a “Mahmoud S. Rabbani Scholar”. Name, project details, photo and other information, including information from the abovementioned reports may be used in the Foundation’s publications and on the website of the Foundation.
9. The scholar shall cite the support of the Foundation in his/her curriculum vitae, thesis and any other publications whenever reasonably appropriate.
10. False or faulty information provided in the application form or during the application process shall entitle the Foundation to withdraw the award.
11. Deviations and additions to these terms and conditions can only be agreed in writing.
12. The laws of the Netherlands shall apply to the contractual relationship between the scholar and the Foundation. Conflicts shall be resolved by the Netherlands court of competent jurisdiction.
